

BOLOGNA PROCESS OFFICIAL SEMINAR

“JOINT PROGRAMMES AND STUDENT MOBILITY”

Chelyabinsk Russia

16-17 March 2009

The Bologna Seminar on “JOINT PROGRAMMES AND STUDENT MOBILITY” will be held in Chelyabinsk, Russia, March 16 and 17, 2009. This seminar will be hosted by the Ministry of education and science of the Russian Federation and the National Training Foundation

The main objective of Russian educational policy today is to integrate into world education and develop export of educational services. One of the mechanisms to meet this objective is launching joint programmes and projects together with foreign and international organizations.

The preliminary themes to be discussed at the Bologna Seminar are:

1. Achievement of educational processes compatibility between universities.
2. European and Russian universities experience in developing and improving joint educational programmes.
3. Learning results recognition in universities-partners.
4. Creating conditions for extending mobility, including teachers' language competence

Further in this letter you will get information on:
